

Camera Highlights Pine Island Tour and Barbecue

THURSDAY, SEPT. 5, 1963

READY FOR TOUR — Cheryl Rudy, Miss Orange County, presents first tour program to Henry N. Neglia, a Rutherford N.J. banker, at start of Saturday morning tour of the black dirt farms as guides look on. Pine Island Chamber of Commerce sponsored the tours throughout the "Vegetable Garden of Orange County" which attracted hundreds of visitors from several different counties and states. Program booklet was compiled and written by

Anne M. Brozdowski and Helen B. Yungman, co-chairmen of tours. Guides included Molly Yungman and Maureen Gurda, seated, and Pat Cosgrove, Theresa Krasiewicz, Joan Poloniak, and Linda Paffenroth. Proceeds of first annual Harvest week-end will benefit the Youth Recreation Program, sponsored by the chamber. (Advertiser Photo)

SNOW IN AUGUST? — Worker demonstrates snow machine in action at Kosuga's Cold Storage to visitors taking tour of Pine Island black dirt area Saturday morning. Snow is necessary to keep vegetables fresh in storage and shipping. (Advertiser Photo)

ROPE TRICK — East Pine Island team, facing camera, proved it was no rope trick at all, as they pulled to victory in tug-of-war following chicken barbecue at Kosuga's Sunday afternoon. Team captained by Andrew Regelski included: Walt Andryszak, Stanley Zaworski, Stanley Wierzbicki and Tony Nowicki. (Advertiser Photo)

VEGETABLES ON DISPLAY — Joan Poloniak and Theresa Krasiewicz man attractive display which greeted visitors at CYO Building where tours started. All vegetables and fruit are grown and packed in Pine Island, "The Vegetable Garden of Orange County." (Advertiser Photo)

Reservation Card

Harvest Chicken Barbecue, Sept. 1 at Kosuga's Farm

Please reserve _____ Adult tickets @ $2.50

Please reserve _____ children's tickets @ $1.50

Please reserve _____ Farm Tour tickets @ $1.50

_____
Name

HARVESTING THE ONIONS — Visitors touring Kosuga's Pine Island farm Saturday pose with some of the tour officials as they learn how the black dirt area's main crop is harvested, packed and shipped to all parts of the world. Among those responsible for the successful event are Ed Gerczak, president of the Pine

Island Chamber of Commerce, Helen B. Yungman, co-chairman; Vince Kosuga, owner of the vast farm operation; Anne M. Brozdowski, co-chairman, Town Supervisor Martin Schimick, and standing at right, John Adams of the Warwick Chamber of Commerce. (Advertiser Photo)